

Fish Viewing Platforms

Viewing platforms provide opportunities to view salmon and other wildlife in their natural environments. This can help to encourage and instill good stewardship to protect natural environments and critical habitat areas where fish and wildlife reside. Viewing platforms can provide safe ways for visitors to view wildlife and learn about the wonders of nature. The use of educational and notice boards provides visitors educational opportunities to learn how fish and other native wildlife interact and how they all rely on healthy streams and surrounding watersheds for their survival.
